

Jia Song

Associate

song.jia@dorsey.com

New York – 212.415.9240

Jia advises and represents clients in a variety of corporate and securities law matters.

Jia's practice focuses on representing issuers, underwriters, and investors on public and private securities offering, including IPO, SPAC, following-on offering and PIPE. She also assists public and private companies in their corporate transactions, including mergers and acquisitions.

Jia's experience includes advising several China-based and U.S. domestic issuers going public in the U.S. In addition, Jia counsels U.S. and FPI public companies with respect to 34 Act periodic reporting obligations and corporate governance issues.

Select Experience

- Represents NASDAQ-listed issuers in general corporate and securities matters.
- Regularly represent underwriters in initial public offerings for various issuers.
- Represented NASDAQ-listed education technology company to $22M note offering.
- Represented China-based Nasdaq Global Market-listed issuer in shelf take down of convertible notes and warrants offering.

Accolades

- New York Metro Super Lawyers®, "Rising Stars," 2025-2026
- Dorsey & Whitney – Scales of Justice Team Award (Arizona Justice Project Case Review Team), 2025

Languages

- Mandarin

Education

- New York University School of Law (L.L.M., 2020)
- Peking University (Juris Master, 2016)
- Beijing Institute of Technology (B.A., LL.B., 2013)

Bar Admissions

- New York