

Will Sardo

Associate

sardo.will@dorsey.com

Toronto – 416.367.7385

Will structures cross-border capital markets transactions and advises on corporate compliance for domestic and international clients entering U.S. markets.

Will's practice is centered on securities transactions, advising domestic and international clients on both private and public offerings, including initial public offerings on NYSE, NASDAQ, and OTC Markets, with a particular focus on Canada/U.S. cross-border transactions.

Additionally, Will counsels both domestic and foreign private issuer clients on SEC periodic disclosure requirements and corporate governance issues.

Prior to joining Dorsey's Toronto office, Will practiced at a major Canadian law firm.

Select Experience

- Represented a dual-listed mining company in various underwritten and at-the-market offerings.
- Regularly represent underwriters in initial public offerings for various issuers.
- Represented a New York-based infrastructure investment firm in a take-private transaction of a Canadian solar developer structured as a statutory plan of arrangement.*
- Represented a well-known energy company in the refinancing and re-issuance of senior debt securities.*

*Experience occurred prior to joining Dorsey.

Languages

- French

Education

- University of Houston Law Center (J.D., 2023)
- University of Calgary (J.D., 2023)
- Queens University (B.S., 2019)
 - with honors

Bar Admissions

- Florida
- Registered Foreign Legal Consultant in Ontario